

BRITISH LOSE COUNTER ATTACK GAINS

BRITISH ARMY BEARING BRUNT OF HUN OFFENSIVE

enormous Task Facing Haig's Men Shown By Figures Given By Maj. Gen. Maurice—Situation is Still Decidedly Anxious.

LONDON, April 17.—The reater part of Wytschaete and probably all of it is in the hands of the British, Major General F. B. Maurice, chief director of military operations at the war office announced today.

Counter-attacking successfully at Meteren and south of that place the British have driven back the Germans half way to Bailleul. They have advanced and improved their lines in the direction of Neuve Eglise.

"I returned last night from France," said General Maurice, at the outset of his talk with the Associated Press.

"The situation yesterday was very anxious. The Germans had taken Bailleul, Meteren and Wytschaete and had brought four fresh divisions into action against us. If the enemy could have maintained that pressure there looked to be vital danger to the ridge of heights which includes Mount Kemmel, and which is the backbone of our defense on the northern portion of the battle line. But the news last night and today is better."

Refers to Ypres Withdrawal

General Maurice then referred to the successful British counter-attack in the neighborhood of Wytschaete and to the British withdrawal in the Ypres salient and continued:

"Preparations for shortening our line in the Ypres salient were made some time ago and the decision to carry it out was reached before the fall of Bailleul owing to the danger offered to our positions in the salient from a flanking movement. The withdrawal was not indicated or governed by the adverse course of events around Bailleul but by more general considerations."

WAR BULLETINS

LONDON April 17.—The losses to British shipping by mine or submarine in the last week totaled 15, according to the admiralty report tonight. Eleven of the merchantmen sunk were 1,600 tons or over and four under that tonnage. One fishing vessel also was sunk.

OTTAWA, April 17.—Telegraphing from French headquarters Reuter's correspondent says of the operations in the Somme region:

"The Germans are concentrating north of the Somme indicating that they have not yet abandoned hope of reaching Amiens. The French have maintained their lead and the artillery have been keeping up a steady bombardment of the enemy front line while we are simultaneously organizing our own positions."

OTTAWA April 17.—"The past twenty four hours have been anything but a good time for the enemy," says Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters in a dispatch filed today. "Ludendorff is doubtless telling the Germans to look at the map. The answer is: Tell them to look at their casualty lists."

"Our shortening of the Passchendaele salient and the giving up of ground won last autumn has not been in vain since it played a large part in wear and tear of the enemy, the last phase of which we are now entering on."

"The withdrawal was accomplished with masterly skill, unhampered by the Germans. Our power of resistance has greatly stiffened, while we have forced the enemy to lengthen his communications across ground which he would infinitely sooner be without."

"The British army is playing the role which it often has played before. It is fighting a Waterloo while Bluecher is marching to the battlefield. Multiply the battle of Waterloo a hundred fold and the situation at noon in that battle corresponds to the situation now in the great world battle."

"The British army is under a terrible hammering but providing Bluecher is marching to the battlefield there is no reason for discouragement."

The Enormous Task
The enormous task which the British army has performed and still is performing may be shown by a few figures. In this battle of Armentieres the Germans

BOND SALES ARE DISAPPOINTING IN LARGER CITIES

Sales Since First Days of Campaign Not Up To Expectations

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The third liberty loan campaign is two fifths over and less than one third of the three billion dollar minimum has been officially recorded as subscribed.

The total reported tonight to the treasury, covering receipts by banks up to the close of business last night was $952,923,265, or $48,000,000 short of the billion dollar total which had been expected by tonight. This is $123,317,150 more than was reported last night.

"Sales since the first days of the campaign when they started with a rush frankly are not up to expectations," said the treasurer's daily review tonight. "There is a feeling of disappointment, particularly in the large cities. The country districts are doing better than they did in previous campaigns but the gains they are making are not of sufficient size to make up for the lack of sales in the large communities."

The St. Louis federal reserve district has subscribed sixty per cent of its quota and continues at the head of the list in this respect. The New York district also the biggest contributor has dropped to fourth place as to percentage according to tonight's figures.

Subscriptions for the St. Louis district total $78,568,950 and Chicago $16,862,000 or 37 percent.

Women appear to be doing particularly good work in every part of the country. They were especially helpful, it is said in helping the state of Oregon and Iowa subscribe their quotas. Mrs. W. G. McAdoo, chairman of the national women's liberty loan committee, conferred today with the committee chairman in Chicago district, then started for Arizona where she will meet Secretary McAdoo. She will accompany him on the rest of his tour.

President Edmund J. James, of the University of Illinois, telegraphed that the faculty, students and employees of his school already had passed the quota as signed to it.

NO RIGHT TO ENGAGE IN TRUST BUSINESS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 17.—Declining to depart from its former decision the supreme court ruled today that national banks have no right to engage in a trust business in the state of Illinois. In giving its opinion, the court denied the petition of the First National Bank of Joliet, for a writ of mandamus to compel the state auditor to issue the bank a certificate entitling it to act as trustee, administrator, etc.

The supreme court of the United States has ruled otherwise on petitions from other states. On this point the Illinois supreme court said the petitioner had recourse to the court of final review.

The Germans are concentrating north of the Somme indicating that they have not yet abandoned hope of reaching Amiens. The French have maintained their lead and the artillery have been keeping up a steady bombardment of the enemy front line while we are simultaneously organizing our own positions."

"The withdrawal was accomplished with masterly skill, unhampered by the Germans. Our power of resistance has greatly stiffened, while we have forced the enemy to lengthen his communications across ground which he would infinitely sooner be without."

"The bitter intensity of the fighting lulled during the forenoon, the hurricane artillery duel subsiding to spasmodic outbursts with long intervals of comparative calm."

"We have taken numerous prisoners in the last two days."

MUST BE PAID FOR BY COMMISSION

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 17.—Transcripts of evidence covering orders of the public utilities commission filed in court contest cases, must be paid for by the commission, the supreme court ruled today. The decision grew out of a rate controversy in the Sangamon county circuit court involving a petition of the DeKalb County Telephone company to increase rates.

The ruling will cost the utilities commission thousands of dollars, it is said.

THE BATTLE TIDE

BRITISH REPORT

LONDON, April 17.—After gaining a footing today in the villages of Meteren and Wytschaete the British were forced to make a second retirement according to Field Marshal Haig's report from France tonight.

French troops, it is added, have now reinforced the British lines. The text of the statement reads:

"This morning intense bombardments were opened by the enemy on practically the whole of the Lys battle front, and from the forest of Niope to Wytschaete were followed by infantry attacks. All these attacks have been repulsed and considerable losses inflicted on the enemy.

"In counter-attacks reported in the morning communiqué our troops succeeded in entering the villages of Meteren and Wytschaete, but in the face of continued hostile attacks were unable to maintain their positions there.

"French troops are co-operating with the British on this front."

GERMAN REPORT

BERLIN, April 17.—via London.—The Germans have occupied Poelcapelle and Langemarck, to the northeast of Ypres the announcement by general headquarters this evening reports.

BERLIN, April 17.—via London.—The official statement issued by general headquarters today reads:

"On the blood-stained battlefields of last year's Flanders, General Sixt von Arnim's army occupied Passchendaele and advanced its lines near Bécelaere and Gheluvelt.

"North of the Lys during the early morning hours troops under General Siger stormed the village of Wytschaete and drove the enemy from the heights northeast and west of the village, in spite of vigorous counter-measures and repulsed a strong counter-attack. The enemy who was retreating to the southwest of Wulverghem, was pressed back across the Douve brook.

"Bailleul and the stubbornly defended point of support Cappelleyne to the north of Bailleul, and Meteren were captured. By the use of strong forces the English, supported by French, vainly endeavored to recapture Meteren and lost territory on both sides of Merris. Their attacks broke down with the heaviest losses."

FRENCH REPORT

PARIS, April 17.—There were heavy bombardments today north of Mont Didier, according to the war office announcement tonight, but no infantry action.

The text of the statement reads:

"There were no infantry actions during the course of the day. The enemy violently bombarded our first lines and several villages in the region north of Mont Didier. Our batteries effectively counter-shelled the enemy artillery and carried out concentrations of fire on the German positions. On April 15 and 16 four German airplanes were brought down. It is confirmed that two additional enemy machines were destroyed April 12.

M'ADOO ORDERS ERIE CANAL TAKEN OVER

Fit of Barges, Yet to be Constructed, Expected to Relieve Freight Traffic.

Subscriptions for the St. Louis district total $78,568,950 and Chicago $16,862,000 or 37 percent.

Jacksonville Presbyterian Churches all Represented—Delegates Named for General Assembly.

The presbytery of the Springfield distict has been in session in Springfield during recent days. Those present from Jacksonville were Rev. E. B. Landis, Rev. W. E. Spoons, Rev. R. B. Wilson, Elders A. P. Vasconcellos, William Floreth and Ensley Moore. At the business session the ministerial commissioners to the general assembly which will meet at Columbus, chosen are Rev. R. B. Irwin, Rev. Adam Schaffer and Rev. Henry Love. The lay commissioners are Charles H. Welles, Divernon, William N. Provine, Taylorville; Ensley Moore, Jacksonville. Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp was present at the presbytery in addition to the Jacksonville people mentioned above.

A resolution was adopted urging the observance as strictly as possible of Sunday by the army and navy of the U. S. Ernest Fernandes of Northminster church was taken under the care of the presbytery as a candidate for the ministry. Action was taken looking toward the securing of a history of every church in each county of the presbytery in connection with the centennial celebration of Illinois.

The sessions of the presbytery were held at First Presbyterian church and were of great interest, not only to the delegates but to other Presbyterians as well.

It is somewhat of a coincidence that Mr. Welles and Mr. Moore, who were elected as commissioners to the assembly, were associated years ago in Westminster church and Illinois college. Their relations were during the years between the years 1876 and 1883 for it was in the latter year that Mr. Welles graduated from the college.

FOURTH OFFICERS TRAINING CAMPS TO OPEN MAY 15

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The fourth officers training camps will open May 15 at various divisional camps and cantonments, Secretary Baker today announced.

The secretary said that two thirds of the enlisted personnel of the divisions and detached units of the regular army, national guard and national army, excepting the coast artillery and the various staff corps will be designated to attend the schools.

In addition there will be admitted all graduating members of senior divisions, reserve officers, training corps units, who have completed the course prescribed for the reserve officers training corps and all members of the advance corps senior divisions of the corps, who by May 15 have completed one year of the advanced course and who have had three hundred hours of military instruction since January, 1917.

under supervision of an army officer.

In addition a number of men who have had a year's military training under army officers at any time during the last ten years in educational institutions, recognized by the war department, will be admitted. All applications must be filed by May 15.

The several educational institutions recognized by the government the secretary said have been assigned quotas and they shortly will be advised as to the method of selecting candidates.

Men successfully completing the course will be listed as eligible for commissions as second lieutenants and will be commissioned as vacancies occur in the infantry, cavalry and field artillery branches.

GETS COAT OF YELLOW.

Chicago, April 17.—A heavy coat of yellow paint, carried on a gas pipe for half a mile and final arrest resulted from remarks said to have been made against the liberty loan by Carl Joseph, an employee of the Rock Island repair shops at Silvis, Ill., today. The alleged attitude of Joseph is said to have aroused the anger of his fellow workers.

Women were the first agriculturists.

ILLINOIS BRIEFS

CHICAGO, April 17.—Welcome rains beneficial to newly seeded corn and to soil preparation for planting brought about sharp breaks today in the price of corn.

ROCKFORD, Ill., April 17.—Rockford Central Labor Union has voted to bar from its meeting any delegate who does not wear a button showing he has subscribed one percent of his earnings to the Winnebago County Patriots Fund association.

CHICAGO, April 17.—Ten cent mill on the "cash and carry" plan, which was recommended by the milk commission of the United States food commission early in February, is about to be offered to the consumers of Chicago. The large dealers are favorable to the plan, it is announced today.

ROCKFORD, Ill., April 17.—Rockford Germanic Gesang Verein the second oldest fraternal society in the city, voted last night to change its name, subscribed $200 to the liberty loan and appointed a committee to solicit further subscriptions among the members.

CHICAGO, April 17.—So many clergymen have gone to war that high school boys will be called on to go into training for the ministry. A call for recruits to fill pupils is sent forth today by the Council of Church Boards of Education of which Robert L. Kelley is executive secretary.

"The need for preachers has become critical," Mr. Kelley said. "The number of students in seminaries this year is 1,000 less than in 1917. Four thousand new preachers are required each year to offset the shrinkage caused by death or disability."

PEORIA, Ill., April 17.—Practically no progress was made today in the selection of a jury to try E. A. Strauss, former banker, for the murder of Berne M. Mead. With one juror tentatively accepted by both sides, recess at noon found two men in the box tentatively accepted by the state.

CHICAGO, April 17.—Nelson Morris, chairman of the board of Morris and Company, the packers, who originally claimed exemption from the draft on grounds that he was essential to the conduct of a business having war contracts, will be examined in Washington. Mr. Morris is now a dollar-a-year man in the quartermaster's department. He was to have been examined by his local board here today, but his request that the examination be transferred to Washington will be allowed.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., April 17.—Burglars blew the safe at the Joseph Kuhn and Company, men's clothing store on Main street early this morning, but the money box door held and nothing of value was obtained. The outer compartment of the safe was wrecked. Overcoats were used by the burglars to deaden the sound. Entrance was through a skylight on the fourth floor.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 17.—Leave was granted by the supreme court today to Attorney General Brundage to file a petition for mandamus against certain municipal court judges in Chicago to stop what he declares is a common practice of releasing persons after they have been convicted of lesser crimes. The writ was made returnable at the June term of court. Judges named in the proceedings are Municipal Court Judges LaBuy, Cacerly, Hayes and Fisher.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—President Wilson today nominated George W. Halm, postmaster at Peru, Ill.

CAMP GRANT, Rockford, Ill., April 17.—A clique of ten men in Chicago is said to have reaped about $10,000 in rewards of $50 each for the return of men classified as deserters.

They specialize in foreign born men who neither read nor speak English and who are astonished, upon being brought here to learn that they are classed as deserters.

A special policeman assigned in the department of justice is said to be a member of the gang.

Whether punishment is possible is not known here, but the practice of preying on the ignorance of these men is said by staff officers to be one which must be stamped out. It is suggested that patriotic organizations could come to the aid of those who may get into trouble thru ignorance of the president.

The cause of all of these so-called skin diseases is in the blood, and you cannot reach the blood by external remedies applied to the surface.

Give your blood a thorough cleansing with S. S. S., the great old blood purifier, and you in this way eliminate all impurities which cause skin diseases and other disarrangements. This is the logical treatment, and it has proven its great worth in hundreds of cases because it is a purely vegetable remedy and cleanses the blood of all foreign substances, and fills the veins with a fresh supply of rich, red and vigorous blood. Go to your drug store and get a bottle of S. S. S. today, and get no further time on washes, ointments and lotions, that cannot reach below the surface. ## A VIRTUAL CESSION OF INFANTRY COMBATS

HERETOFORE Untouched Part of Flanders is Going Way of the Devasted Regions of the Somme.

With the French Army in France, April 17.—By the Associated Press—While the cannon continue to roar along the battle line there has for some days been a virtual cessation of infantry combats, especially on the French part of the front. No one in the allied camp however, regards the German push as being terminated.

It is believed that the lull will prove temporary and, despite their terrific losses and the exhaustion of many of their divisions, it is considered probable that the German staff is merely pausing to gather forces for another effort and will try to go yet farther in the hope of eventually breaking thru.

Any such effort is awaited confidently by the allies, whose commanders feel certain that it will meet a similar lack of success. The correspondent has been able to glean the prevalent views of the allied side as to the situation. Almost without exception it is thought present battle will have a decisive influence on the result of the war but it would be an error to regard it as the last battle. There has been a campaign on the German side to proclaim that this immense effort would result in the allies demanding peace, but they had not counted on the tenacity of either the allied armies or the nations.

As far as it has gone, the German offensive may be looked on as a failure since none of its objectives have been attained and the allied armies are still intact while the Germans now owing to the diminution of their forces thru casualties are in an inferior position to that which they occupied before the battle began.

The only result they can show is the recapture of a large tract of country they themselves devastated, where they may be compelled to dig themselves in. The Germans may decide or be allowed to remain there until all is in favor of the allies, who are awaiting constant increase of their strength thru the arrival of American contingents.

URGES ALL CITIZENS OF STATE TO PARTICIPATE

Governor Issues Proclamation Designed to Further Centennial Observance.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 17.—Governor Lowden in a proclamation issued tonight urged citizens of Illinois to participate in celebrations of the state's centennial anniversary.

"All of the present year is a centennial year," the proclamation says. "The first step of the drama in the series of events which created the state of Illinois was taken in January one hundred years ago."

The governor calls attention to April 18 (tomorrow) as the date on which congress passed the enabling act which gave the present Illinois a right to assume statehood. Citing other significant dates Governor Lowden continues:

"I cannot too strongly urge upon our people generally to participate in these celebrations. Who can doubt but that the historic background of France and England has been one of the most potent factors in the heroic resistance they have made to military despotism in this great war. It will help us too, if we shall only recall the achievements of our first hundred years. We shall wish the more earnestly, to be worthy of our fathers. We shall realize how our great loss in Illinois, if we shall lose this war. Our soldiers in the field—if they shall only see that Illinois is as fair a domain as France—will they not say to the enemy, with the soldiers of France, 'They shall not pass'?"

"Wherever, in whatever nook or corner of the state there is some spot which has been ennobled by some heroic deed, let us signalize that spot. Wherever any place has been blessed by an unselfish and useful life, let us give recognition to that life."

PRESENTS HIS SIDE.

Washington, April 17.—John Clinton Williams, purchasing director for the railroad administration today laid before President Wilson at the session of the war cabinet his side of the disagreement between Fuel Administrator Garfield and the railroad administration over the question of car shortage and coal mines and railroad methods in purchasing their coal supply. There was no announcement after the meeting but it is understood that the difficulty will be adjusted one way or the other soon by direction of the president.

GERMAN BLIGHT SPREADS DESOLATION

Artillery Fighting on French Part of Western Front—Lull in Infantry Action Only Temporary.

HERETOFORE Untouched Part of Flanders is Going Way of the Devasted Regions of the Somme.

With the French Army in France, April 17.—(By the Associated Press)—It is difficult for one in the British war zone to adjust himself to the new conditions here. It all seems like a horrid dream—this spreading German blight across the cultivated plains of Flanders, with their ancient, picturesque vilages.

It is but little more than a week since one was free to motor quietly along highways leading thru Merville, Bailliford and a score of other nearby places which never lost their charms.

Then peaceful farm lands lay freshly turned ready for the spring crops. The battle lines were not far to the eastward, but death and destruction seemed remote with walls of khaki-clad men guarding the land. Little lads stood at attention by the roadside and saluted as the motors passed and old men and women beamed welcome from the doors of their cottages.

Within a few days all this has been changed. The plague of war has descended on the countryside. Now one meets his civilian friends—the little folk and the aged—from many hamlets making their way sadly back along the broad highway leading westward from the tide of invasion which is driving them from all they hold dear. They look back on the rolling fields that separate them from their little world. By day a bank of grim, gray smoke from burning hamlets and from myriad belching guns marks the zone along which are struggling the splendid British soldiers in their efforts to block further inroads of the Hun. By night the skyline is sometimes a lurid blaze as consuming flames leap up from a hundred homes and great cannon vomit volcanic fire. It is a living hell. It is a part of heretofore untouched Flanders going the way of the Somme and so the gentle peasant folk stand and look or wander on. As they go they cannot comprehend it. Its awfulness has numbed their brains. The correspondent found a little family group crouching beneath huge British howitzers held in reserve. Their eyes were fastened on the mounting columns of smoke which rose from the village whence they came. There were no tears and no words, but the expression on their faces was like that of one just condemned to die.

Why they stopped beside the great guns was unexplained.

Possibly it was because it gave them a sense of protection from dangers out beyond. Many of the refugees know only in a general way whither they go; they are following the lead of military guides like sheep fleeing from a storm. A few cherished belongings are all they carry with them, and they cling to these desperately as their last remaining possessions. Hundreds of Flemish homes have been shorn of their protectors who have been called to the French colors and for these this has been a time of double terror. Some of the peasants indeed clung to their cottages amidst the crashing of shells, until British soldiers led them away. Some have died by their own hearths before they could be removed.

A host of these people must have realized their danger, but numbers refused to be dragged from the homes when they had been keeping so patiently, awaiting the return of husbands or brothers from war. There were many pitiful cases of homes, in which there were bedridden invalids whom their friends had no means of removing without help from the soldiers. It was only yesterday that British official photographer who was recording the history of the war on his films discovered a helpless paralytic lying in a house that had already been partly wrecked by shells.

The invalid had no relatives and his friends, who had looked after him, were dead or cut off from him. So, the photographer with the assistance of a soldier, carried the man to safety, the their road lay thru what might have been a horrible death at any moment. This is one instance among many.

Some times there is no way of saving valuables of bulk in towns which come first under the fire of German troops. Reies and treasurers representing the savings of years have been abandoned to the flames and plunderers. Many things have been deliberately destroyed by their owners in order that the Germans might not get them.

TO CHECK DISEASE AT CAMP TAYLOR

Isolation System is Adopted—Three Hundred Aliens Discharged From Service.

Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky., April 17.—An announcement at Camp Zachary Taylor, of interest to relatives of Indiana, Southern men, and Kentucky selectmen, states that new methods have been adopted to combat disease in his training camp thru a system of partial isolation for stated periods.

Most of the sickness, it is said, is in the Depot Brigade, where training quotas are quarantined. Precaution, it is declared, been taken to detect symptoms as soon as they develop and prevent spread of the diseases. It was deemed advisable to resort to even more stringent measures, and what is known is as the cubicle system has been implemented.

Three foot screens will separate the cots of the men in barracks. At the mess tables screens will divide the center of the table so that a man with a cough will not expose to possible contagion the comrade sitting opposite him. Men will be assigned to regular seats at tables and space will be left between each.

WHI Check Respiratory Diseases.

It is expected that this system to a large degree will check respiratory diseases. The recruits will be placed in groups of fifty, and except when they are drilling in the open, the members of one group will not be permitted to associate with those of another group.

Should communicable disease develop in a group the medical officers can quickly locate the sufferer and quarantine those who have come in contact with him.

Another method was inaugurated to handle contacts in the case of communicable disease. Immediately after the discovery of measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, pneumonia or spinal meningitis in an organization, its commander has been ordered to segregate the men who have slept on bunks contiguous to the sick man, those who have always sat next to him at mess, and the men with whom he associated. The commanding officer will send them with their bedding and kits to headquarters where they will be assigned to other quarters and rigidly quarantined.

Medical officers are diligent in their endeavor to safeguard the health of the soldiers. It has been found that many of the diseases are brought in by recruits who come from various sections

A review of the work of the Lodge with some specific facts about its financial disbursements will be given. H. H. Vasconcellos will discuss "Present and Future of Camp 912." Thru the twenty nine years of existence the camp has spent a large sum for sick benefits in addition to paying hospital bills for a great many members. The insurance policies paid also run to high figures. Appropriate music has been arranged and altogether the occasion will be one that all Woodmen will enjoy.

The Salem Ladies' Aid will hold a cafeteria luncheon and social in the church Thursday evening, April 18. Everybody cordially invited.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious tint in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, the natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, brightening up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c an 25c per box. All druggists.

of Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois, and from all walks of life. Although the country boy is considered healthier and stronger than the city chap he is more susceptible to many communicable diseases because he is virgin material. Most persons reared in thickly settled places have mumps, chickenpox, measles and other "children diseases" when young and are immune, while the selects from the country who escaped them in childhood, easily contract these ailments.

Aliens Discharged from Service

Camp Zachary Taylor is gradually being rid of alien enemies. Approximately 200 natives of the countries with which the United States is at war and who were sent here in draft quotas by local boards of Indiana, Kentucky and Illinois have been discharged from the military service for the convenience of the government.

Most of them had been employed in steel mills or other industrial plants in the northern section of Indiana prior to their induction into the National Army. Originally many were assigned to units of the 84th Division, the scheme at the opening of the campaign being to keep men from the same localities in the same organizations.

Later the aliens were weeded from the ranks of these commands and segregated in a Provisional Training Battalion of the 159th Depot Brigade, which became known here as the "Foreign Legion." The weeding process has been in operation several months. From time to time the military authorities have interviewed these men as part of a searching investigation.

Medical officers are diligent in their endeavor to safeguard the health of the soldiers. It has been found that many of the diseases are brought in by recruits who come from various sections

OLD JACKSONVILLE

Charles M. Eames, Editor

By Ensley Moore

(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

Probably enough time has elapsed since the death of Mr. Eames to consider his career—not a long one, but quite prominent in several ways.

Born Here.

Charles Mellen Eames was born in Jacksonville, November 6th, 1845, and was the son of Timothy D. and Abigail Murdoch Eames. Mr. T. D. Eames came here in 1835, and engaged in merchandising, on his own account. He brought his wife here, as a bride, from Rochester, N. Y., in 1836. It took them three weeks to come, by canal, and stage to Chicago, and thence by stage to this place. Their first home was on the north side of State Street, opposite the East Charge church of that day. In 1840 Mr. Eames bought the site of the subsequent family home, at the north east corner of W. State and Prairie streets, and built a little house. This was afterward much enlarged and improved, and is today the home of one of their grandchildren and their children; Mrs. Harriett Eames Lander, and her children.

Mr. T. D. Eames was a native of Spencer and his wife of South Framingham, Mass.

Educated Here.

C. M. Eames had a bright mind, and he attended the old West District School, and afterward was a student in Illinois College, till about the time the Sophomore year. He there joined Sigma Pi society, and was thereafter a prominent member of that organization. He was never strong physically, and had to give up his studies. He had an aptitude for the pen, and literary things, and soon Became a Newspaper Man.

His first work in that line was in October, 1866, as a county fair reporter for the Daily Journal, and he was the local reporter here for the Chicago Republican and State Journal in 1868. That year he went to Quincy, where he was a city editor of the Whig for six months. After his journalistic experience, Mr. Eames had book store, alone, or with others, for eight years, in this city. He was in the firms of Eames & Thayer and of Eames & Ward Bros.

In Newspaper Again.

In 1878 Mr. Eames bought Capt. Horace Chapin's half interest in the Daily and Weekly Journal, and was city editor, news editor, political editor and business manager. His partner was the Hon. M. F. Simons, now of Kansas City, Mo.

In 1878, Mr. Eames bought Mr. Simons' interest, and became sole proprietor and business manager, devoting most of his time to the business side of the work.

Marries.

Mr. Eames was married November 14, 1875, to Miss Carrie M. Hall of Wallingford, Conn., and they were the parents of four children. Harriett Murdoch, Beverly Dwight, Charles M. and Susan Eames.

Harriett still lives in the old homestead, Beverly lives in Alabama and the Rev. Chas. M. and Susan are missionaries in China.

A Republican.

As is to be inferred, Mr. Eames was a Republican, politically, taking an active part in city and county work. He was delegate to the state convention of 1880, and a Life of Work.

Mr. Eames died at the age of forty five years, but his had been a very active and industrious life, in spite of his lack of much strength of body. He had a good mind and was a good speaker, among his efforts being an address historical of the Sigma Pi society, which he delivered in 1886. That was perhaps his last special literary experience before going to his new place of residence in Kansas.

In his general editorial conduct of the Journal Mr. Eames stood for the best things in public work and in better government. He was firm for religion, freedom and temperance and a supporter of good education. He had worked hard, and deserved credit therefor. His last work was his "History of Jacksonville and Morgan County," and it is our best authority on that subject.

Wife Soon Followed Him.

Mrs. Carrie M. Eames followed her husband soon in death, she passing away February 7, 1890, leaving her children in the care of their grandmother, Eames and aunt Miss Susan M. Hall.

Champion Ferguson, Pioneer Resident of County Died Wednesday Night—Had Lived in County Practically All His Life.

The Morgan county unit of the Woman's Council of National Defense forwarded to Mrs. Harriet Cooley, the state chairman, the registration list for Morgan county showing 7,843 names. Mrs. W. P. Duncan, county chairman stated last night that she had received instructions from Mrs. Cooley to have the report reach the office by April 19. By strenuous work on the part of the registration and listing committee it was possible to send the report in yesterday.

By direction of Mrs. Cooley notices will be posted in various places stating that public registration has now been closed but that the following can still register by privately notifying the county chairman. This applies to those who were ill or out of the city at the time of registration and to girls who have become sixteen years of age since the registration days. The list shows the names of 3,000 women in the county who have been registered as eligible for more than one class of service. The committee will continue its further work in classification of women according to their expressed desire for certain kinds of service. For example, those women who have expressed desire for foreign service will be classified first, then other classifications will follow.
